AMIGA POWER PENGUIN GALLUP CHARTS TOP 100

SENSIBLE SOCCER

It's still there. For the first time a game has remained at the top of the charts for three months. As you would expect, Renegade are ecstatic. When we spoke to them the champagne corks had just started popping. Tom Watson laid off the champers just long enough to say, "We hope it stays high for a while yet, and we think we've got something that will keep the interest going." More news soon.

ESPAÑIA 92

España 92 has crashed into the charts at number 2. The Olympics (and, indeed, any other major sporting event) are bound to generate a great amount of interest. Full marks to Ocean for the timing on this one – they got it just right, as the chart position shows. But once the furore dies down, we predict the sales will drop.

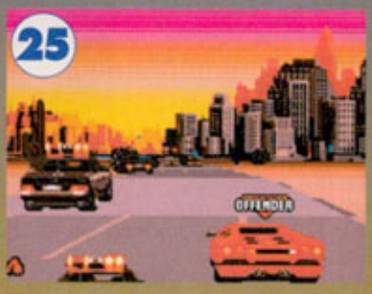
We figure you must have some idea how the charts work by now, so briefly: they're © ELSPA, they mix budgies and full pricers together, games are rated in stars, and now they're sponsored by Penguin!

SHOOT-'EM-UP CONSTRUCTION KIT

Gremlin's budget label, GBH, has come up trumps with the re-release of SEUCK. It blasts its way in at number 14, proving that people can get some fun out of trying to make their own games. At full price it was perhaps a dodgy purchase but now it has found its niche in the market and looks set for a new lease of life.

CRAZY CARS 3



Ever since this arrived in the office it seemed destined to be a hit. We gave it a rave review in issue 16 and it's one of the few games that's had us all coming back for more. Number 25 isn't an astonishingly high place to enter the charts, but keep your eyes on this one, we predict it will be up there with the best of them (or there abouts) for months to come. It's one of those games that doesn't look much at first glance but will sell like proverbial hot confectionary as soon as word gets around.
